SATURDAY, JUNE 12

Wheat, on Friday, sent to the lowest price known since 1862. July delivery is right only 73 1/2 cents.

The railway passenger war between the rival lines running between Chicago and St. Paul continues. The fare on the three competing lines is $1.25 from Chicago to St. Paul.

The area planted in wheat, and now harvested or growing, is estimated to be nearly as follows: Europe, 91,000,000 acres; North America, 24,500,000 acres; South America, 6,000,000 acres; India, 26,000,000 acres; Australia, 3,500,000 acres; Africa and Western Asia, 13,000,000 acres; total, 183,000,000.

Very good, from the Chicago Journal: "The friends of temperance reform in Georgia have appealed to the northern prohibitionists to aid them in enforcing the local option law where it has been adopted in that state. The Georgia temperance reformers seem to be unaware of the fact that the northern prohibitionists are so busily engaged in attempts to help the ram democracy into power that they can not give any attention to temperance reform in Georgia or elsewhere."

Sir Sidney Waterlow and his wife, of London, are among the notable at Washington. Lady Waterlow, as she is now called, was a California girl, daughter of George Hamilton, and when met Sir Sidney was occupying the position of secretary of the San Francisco Examiner, and doing her work well. Her husband is ex-mayor of London. 60 years old and very wealthy. The young lady was a pet of the Mockers and Stanfords, and before they would sanction the match they made the love-laden foreigner show his papers and pedigree.

Speaking about the sham labor patriots, the Madison Democrat shows up the character of the Indiana doctor Powell, of La Crosse, who is working hard with his mouth to elect himself governor. It is more than probable that "Jerry" Rask has many times performed more labor, feeding a grouse-bog thrashing machine in a single day, than this Powell ever did in his life, or would if he lived three hundred years yet. Most likely the same could be said of any other republican or democratic candidate talked about in connection with the office of governor. But then Powell can get in more solid mouth labor in two hours than any other candidate could during the campaign. Honest industry has to set as a test of burden for a good many unwary voters, but it has seldom been loaded with a more contemptible cargo than the modern labor champions.

There has been a good deal of talk on the tobacco problem lately, started by the publication of a little book on the subject by Mrs. Meta Lusk. She does not solve the problem whether the smoking man will smoke or whether he ought to smoke, but she indicates the habit as a public nuisance. She indicates it as expensive, incendiary, physically degenerating, intellectually dwarfing, socially polluting, morally degrading, spiritually devastating. It poisons the air, makes malodorous the furniture, makes the smoker a "stitch" in the nostrils of the pure. It is evil, and only evil, and that continually. There is no problem about except this absolute insoluble one, why any gentleman should smoke. And that problem she gives up. A great many give it up, and yet smoking is on the increase, and no man has yet been able to give an intelligent and satisfactory answer to the question why he smokes. (There may be to an excessive sometimes for drinking wine, because there are times when wine will probably help digestion, but all physicians will agree that tobacco whether chewed or smoked, is rarely if ever hygienic. It is very likely that Mrs. Lusk's book will not convert an old smoker, but in the hands of a young man who is "hating between two opinions as to whether he shall smoke and obey, the book will doubtless do a great deal of good. It is full of fiery words, but that does not hurt the book any. It sets as good reasoning.

The Harper's Weekly in the current number, has an editorial from the pen of George William Curtis, on the temperance question and the republican party, in which he takes special pains to lash the party for the defect of the prohibitory amendment to the legislature of New York. But the Weekly does not say one word in condemnation by the democratic members of the legislature, every one of whom voted against the submission of the amendment. Mr. Curtis, in a demagogical sort of a way, covers up the facts in regard to the detail vote, on the temperance question. He wants all the people to know that some republicans voted against the amendment, and therefore the party is responsible for the defeat, but he doesn't want the country to know that a solid democratic vote in the legislature was against the proposition to submit the amendment to the people. It is true that every vote cast for the amendment was cast by republicans, but that counts nothing in Mr. Curtis' estimation of the republican party. If he counts the whole party simply because a few are found who would not vote for the submission of the prohibitory proposition, why, on the same principle, doesn't he condemn the twelve apostles because there was a Judas among them? But Mr. Curtis does not mean to be fair. He is so thoroughly on the democratic side that he can not discuss a public question with fairness.

The other day the senate passed a bill which prohibits members of congress from accepting retainers or employment in the way of counsel, from corporations that have received grants of land or pecuniary aid from congress. The bill passed by a vote of 37 to 11, some 30 members of the senate not voting. Those who voted against the bill were Bowen, Cameron, Daves, Edmunds, Ervick, Hour, Mitchell (Ore.), Riddleberger, Sawyer, Sewell, Teller. Just why these eleven senators voted against the bill is not clearly shown by the proceedings recent out by the associated press. After a careful study of the question, it would seem to a man of sober sense, who had an ordinary keen appreciation of justice, that the provisions of the bill are eminently right. No man who goes to the senate ought to attempt to serve two masters. He ought not to attempt to represent the people, and at the same time become an attorney for a corporation which looks to congress for legislation. In other words a senator or a member, ought not to expect to receive $5,000 a year from the government to care for the people's interests, and then take a fee from corporations to care for their interests, when the two are not at all in harmony. It may be that the Record will give some satisfactory reason why some of the prominent corporation lawyers voted against the bill.

The seventh annual encampment of the Monaca lake assembly will be opened at Madison, July 29, and will close August 11. The programme for the two weeks, so far as is known, is as follows: July 29-30, m. address in temperance by Mrs. Frances R. Willard, m. address by Mrs. Willard on the violin and piano; August 1-2, m. address by Mrs. Willard on the violin and piano; August 3-4, m. address by Mrs. Willard on the violin and piano; August 5-6, m. address by Mrs. Willard on the violin and piano; August 7-8, m. address by Mrs. Willard on the violin and piano; August 9-10, m. address by Mrs. Willard on the violin and piano; August 11, m. address by Mrs. Willard on the violin and piano.

The grounds are being extensively improved, and those who attend will find greater conveniences for their comfort than ever before. The programme as will be seen from the part which is here published, will be one of the best ever arranged for the Monaca Assembly. Two years ago, Dr. Everett, of Massachusetts, a son of the late Edward Everett, became a member, and supported Cleveland. He surprised the country by saying that the private immorality in a public man counted for nothing provided he was otherwise honest and capable. Dr. Everett has lately come out with a defense of the "administration" so far as civil service is concerned. In this connection we reproduce the remarks of Congressman Findlay, of Maryland, a democrat, delivered in congress on Friday, when the civil service rules were under discussion. And I am not the real democracy of Maryland, but not the genuine democracy of Maryland, but not the genuine democracy of Maryland. We have a real democracy in Maryland, and a spurious democracy that has corrupted and debauched the franchise of our state, and has made through the agency of the press, a most commendation of men who owe their office to such influences as have made the name of civil-service reform a stick by the character of the appointment made. I am in favor of civil-service reform, not for the sake of reform, but for the sake of the people, and I say that wherever the day comes that it shall be recognized as the policy of the country, that every four years a hundred thousand offices are to be put up for sale and knocked down to the highest bidder, though this country has stood every strain and trial, that strain will be too great for the Union will be confronted with the most dangerous enemy that has ever assailed its peace or threatened its integrity.

Here is the confession of a democrat which ought to count for something. The exclusion of men who damage the party, who fight against its principles, who seek to subvert its policy, who are interested in the public interest, is essentially important at this time. If the republican party returns a majority of the house, and that majority behaves badly, or proves incompetent, it will be a heavy blow to the party, and the consequences in the next presidential election will be serious. This is from the New York Tribune, which urges especially strong nominations for congress this year. It also urges one thing which is quite important, and that is to get rid of those members who seek their private and personal advantage, contrary to the principles of the party or the public interest. Both parties have such men; and republican districts should seek that none but thoroughly honorable and useful men are nominated this fall. Under no circumstances can the republican party afford to trifle with this matter. There are a good many close districts—districts in which democrats were elected by largely small majorities, and if genuine republicans are nominated—men who can, by their well known integrity, justify the confidence and support of the people—then there is a strong probability that the republicans will carry the next house of representatives. Otherwise there is no hope. Good congressional nominations will do much to strengthen the party in 1888, and then if a majority of the house are republicans, with a quickening sense of the responsibility resting upon them and faithful work in congress, the president election two years hence will be in favor of the republican party. But a republican congress with a no better record than the present democratic congress, would be a serious damage to the party, and would be infinitely worse than no republican majority at all. In MEMORY OF JOHN KELLY. Meeting in Tammany Hall—Dance, Cochran and Others Speak. New York, June 12.—Memorial services were held at Tammany hall Friday night in honor of the late John Kelly. The great hall of the wigwag was heavily draped. A life-size bust of the dead sachem rested upon a pedestal at the right of the chairman. Among those on the platform were: ex-Judge Kelly, who presided; Governor Abbott of New Jersey; Gen. Schickles, State Treasurer Fitzgerald, Collector J. A. Sullivan, Hon. O. B. Potter, Arthur L. J. MORMONIZING THE SWISS.

SAINTLY DEPRAVITY DEFILING THE HOME OF THE ALPS.

The Utah Propaganda Successful Operations—A Vice Consul's Fatal Friction—"Scared" Backset to Death—Another Sounder Breaks a Bank—Effective Riot Tactics. Washington, June 11.—Secretary of State Bayard has received information of unusual activity among Mormon missionaries throughout all Switzerland. That their preaching has not been wanting in results is shown by the fact that last week there were in Switzerland 16 elders, 16 priests, 31 teachers, 11 servants and 521 members; 13 baptisms and 52 emigrants to Utah. Mormonism, it will thus be seen, has taken deep root among the Swiss people. Scarcely any Roman Catholics are numbered among the converts, nearly all of whom are of the Protestant classes. The headquarters of Swiss Mormonism is to be found at Berne, from which point the enrollment of the saints is carried on throughout the land. Even children of tender years are enrolled. Women and associations have been organized as adjuncts to Swiss Mormonism. All possible means are taken to conceal the departure of newly converted saints for Utah so as to avoid detection by the local authorities.

ONLY WANTED TO SCARE HIM. A Fatality Results from Mob Law and Too Much Whiskey. GRAND FORKS, D. T., June 12.—A report reaches here that a man named Ole Backovik was lynched a few days ago in Minnesota, about fifty miles north of here, on Red river. Backovik was working for a farmer, and had come to the farm of the farmer's wife. His affection was reciprocated, and the wife refused to allow Backovik to go away. The farmer gathered a number of neighbors, filled them up with alcohol, and they proceeded to lynch him. It is claimed that the intention was only to scare Backovik, but they kept him suspended too long.

A VICE CONSULAR TRAGEDY.

Our Dublin Representative Shoots Himself and His Wife. DUBLIN, June 12.—Mr. MacKenzie, United States vice consul at Dublin, shot his wife with a revolver Friday evening, leaving a bullet in her temple. He then shot himself in the chest, and died. The cause of the tragedy is not known. It is claimed that the couple had frequent quarrels, and it was during one of their periodic disputes that the tragedy occurred. The shooting occurred in the presence of their three little children.

The "Lynch Campaign" in Ontario.

LONDON, Ont., June 12.—An attempt was made at Sarnia to blow up with dynamite the residence of J. A. McGowan, a supporter of the Scott temperance act. The front portion of the house was slightly damaged, but no one was injured. An attempt was also made to burn the residence of H. A. McGowan, who is a strong temperance advocate, but the fire was discovered in time to prevent serious damage. The county council had passed resolutions urging the anti-liquor campaign, and the outrages were considered a few hours later.

Score Another for the Sheriff.

NEW ORLEANS, June 12.—Donis Boyd, who was hanged at New Orleans, was a white, on Christmas day, 1884. They had a quarrel and fought in a room, and Boyd left, and armed himself with a revolver, and went to the room where he was going from his store to dinner. After the killing Boyd escaped, but was captured.

The Belfast Riots.

BELFAST, June 12.—The republican Catholics and Orangemen of Belfast have offered to assist the police in repressing the riot and restoring order, but the offer has been declined on the ground that their assistance would be the greatest aid to the riotous parties. The government has issued a proclamation commanding the rioters in certain districts of Ulster to refrain from further violence and disorder.

A Lesson in Handling Riots.

PATRICK, June 11.—Crowds reassembled in the streets Friday night and when the police commanded them to disperse they were greeted with hoots of derision. A given signal troop advanced from the street, surrounded the rioters and arrested 700 of them. Many have since been released, but the ring-leaders are held in prison.

Another Sounder Cuts Away.

FRANKFORT, June 12.—The banking house of Jacob Rauscher has gone into bankruptcy, and the manager and principal owner, Edward W. Rauscher, charged with fraudulent bankruptcy and embezzlement of $24,000 has absconded.

Disagreement Over the Amalgamated Scale.

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The Amalgamated association conference committee met with the representatives of the manufacturers promptly at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. They remained closed in earnest discussion of the scale until a late hour at night when an adjournment was taken to Monday. The amalgamated committee will report progress to the convention and ask for further instruction. The manufacturers object to any material advance in prices and on Monday will present a counter proposition, which will adhere closely to present prices.

Competition Heating the Eight-hour Movement.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Two general industrial strikes have improved, though there are still considerable numbers of men on strike at various manufacturing centers. Of the 300,000 who received concessions as to shorter hours with full pay, one month ago, Boston's reports show that less than 140,000 retain their advantages, one half of whom are at Chicago, and one sixth each at Cincinnati and New York. The pressure of competition from non-union workers is breaking down most of what is left of the movement.

Alabama Democracy.

MOBILE, Ala., June 12.—Thomas Tany, president of the senate, was nominated for governor at the Democratic State convention Friday. The nomination is equivalent to an election. The platform expresses in the change in the national government, and the Democratic party of Alabama would extend an expression of the strong confidence they feel in his unswerving patriotism, high integrity, unshaken firmness, and good judgment. It alludes to better feeling between the races from a better understanding of their relations.

Millionaire Flood's Sub Hill House.

Mr. J. C. Flood will enter upon the occupancy of his new house on Nob Hill, San Francisco, next fall. The Alta California says: "This building is probably the most expensive private residence in America. The structure is of veritable New York sweldon brownstone, and the dimensions in the clear are about 100x130 feet, with sufficient surrounding ground for a florid paradise. The artist in charge is the same gentleman who superintended the finishing of the mansions of Vanderbilt, Stewart, Villard, and other eastern millionaires; and his delight over his present task is such that he declares that the parlors of any of them would be paid by comparison with the back hall of the Flood palace. It is idle to estimate in particular the cost of any of the parts of this magnificent edifice, or so far as the interior decorations are said to have made an outlay of over $200,000 for their work and material alone."—Exchange.

THEY WILL SURELY FIND YOU.

THEY WILL SURELY FIND YOU.
They are looking for you everywhere.
Drawn to you in unexpected places, going from room to room, careless, in changing clothes, in short anything
when you are in a common old head. The clean and simple of becomes seated in the machine of the head. Then it is certain. To say and all its stages this disease always yields to Ely's Cream Balm. Safe, certain, arrest o. Price 50c.

A Photographic Gallery on the Road.

A Photographic Gallery on the Road.
The Photographic Times of New York contains an interesting illustrated article about one of the most unique photographic galleries in existence. The gallery is a car built after the fashion of a Pullman coach. It can be attached to any express train and in it the photographer travels all over the country, principally on the Northern Pacific railroad, where it is official photographer. M. F. Jay Haynes has the car built for him at a cost of $12,000, and the fittings cost $5,000 more. The landscape pictures taken for the gallery are
by a special camera, making a picture
30x42 inches. The car contains an ap-

Everything around town showed a need of rain today. The remark that was made by a speaker in the Salvation Army meeting last evening to the effect that the press of Janesville had dealt unfairly with the army is not borne out by the facts. Ever since a post was established in this city the organization has received treatment that could not justly be complained of, and it seems rather ungenerous to make any charges of the kind spoken of.

The pupils of the Emerald Grove public school were puncking at the grounds of the Blind Institute yesterday. They were accompanied by their teachers, Miss Lou H. Bates and Miss Cora Spear. It having been hinted that Juliet and Lady Macbeth were misrepresented on one will be surprised to hear that Fortia and Ophelia also have at last spoken for themselves. At Myers opera house June 25, they will tell their story with all the simplicity and abandon of which the childish nature of Ophelia is capable expressed with all the force and learning of Hamlet. By the way, why is Ophelia's conversation like a sandwich.

The farm house of Mr. John Austin, section one, town of Janesville, was burned at 11 o'clock last night. The fire was first discovered by two of the hired men, one of whom barely had time to escape with his life, leaving all his clothing to be devoured by the flames. The family escaped, saving very little of the household furniture. There was an insurance on the house and contents of $1,500 in the Continental, of New York, written by the agency of Silas Hayner, of this city. The house is a total loss. The origin of the fire is unknown.

An Enjoyable Affair.

The elite of the city were gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Vankirk in the second ward last evening, a more notable assembly seldom being seen in this city. Light shone from each window of the spacious residence, bright colored Japanese lanterns hung in clusters from the trees and the air was filled with the soft strains of enchanting music. There were about one hundred present, nearly all of the prominent society people of the city being included among the guests, and the company was entertained by the charming hostess with all of the hospitality for which she is so noted. Dancing and card playing helped to pass the time away very swiftly, and for those not disposed to take part in these diversions many others were provided. The supper served was a most elegant one and was fully appreciated.

The party, the first of the summer, was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind that has taken place in this city for a long time, and it will be remembered with pleasure by all who were present.

How to Prepare Stuffed Eggs.

Stuffed eggs are excellent for lunch. Boil for twenty minutes as many eggs as you wish to serve. When they are cool remove the shells and cut carefully lengthwise. Remove the yolks and put the white yolks of each egg together. They may not be quite mixed. Mash the yolks and allow a teaspoonful of soft butter and a few drops of onion juice to every half dozen. Add half as much salt or pepper, or onion or tongue as you have yolks, use minced chicken, lamb or veal, seasoned with salt, pepper, mustard and chopped parsley. Fill the whites with the mixture, and put the halves together, and fasten with a toothpick. Spread the remainder of the yolk mixture on a shallow dish, place the egg on it, cover with a white sauce, sprinkle buttered crumbs over the top and bake till the yolks are a delicate brown.—Sally Joy White.

The Way to "Live It Down."

I have heard women bemoaning that they could not come in any way before the public because of something long past affecting their reputations. Before what public? Haven't the world's public changes every ten years. If you can do anything useful or pleasing to the world it will be very glad to receive you. If you want real friends, and have no enemies, go to work and keep them after they are made, you will always find them. If you want to tack on and tag on to that kind of society where reputation is in part measured by the weight of money bags and in part by what "they say," when no one knows exactly who says it—why, even that is accessible if you'll march up to it what you now really are, and not keep yourself before it in thought what you were years ago.—Fremont Maltford.

The Best Way to Sift Cinders.

Tests cinders, cover your sister with an old apron or rag. Soize it thus covered, and shake without lifting the edge of the rag. In case of wind, tread on the edges to keep them down. A few stones applied at the corners will do as well as a sieve.

I have found the above device a thousand times more practical than any of those common and dead apparatus which are found in most hardware stores.—Cor. Scientific American.

The Presence of Hine Blood.

A love for an intimate acquaintance with rare old wines are supposed to indicate the presence of hine blood in a woman's veins. Any parvenu can appreciate diamonds, but hine is quite another affair, and to be a connoisseur in it is almost sure to be possessing a patent of nobility.—Now Orleans Times-Democrat.

To Get Rid of Cuckoos.

The Confectioners' Journal says that green cucumber peel, scattered about a building infested by cuckoos, will clear it of the vermin. The bugs devour the peel with great voracity, and it poisons them.

To Quiet a Noisy Canary.

It is said that to quiet a noisy canary it is only necessary to put in his cage a small mirror,
